

As I have read, broadband over power lines is a Bad Thing (TM).
As much as I would like to see competition (for a change), I would rather not cause this much disturbance because of interference from the technology. It is not ready.